A Fly Catechism

Soon it will be fly time once more. While it is generally conceded by the average run of folks that flies are a nuisance, it is not known as much as it should be that the house fly is in reality a very grave menace to health. The fly should be exterminated. In order to help bring this about the following fly catechism has been distributed among the schoolchildren of one part of the country. It might well be used elsewhere:

1. Where is the fly born? In filth.
2. Where does the fly live? In every kind of filth.
3. Is anything too filthy for the fly to eat? No.
4. (a) Where does he go when he leaves the places of filth? Into the kitchen and dining-room. (b) What does he do there? He walks on the bread, fruit, and vegetables; he wipes his feet on the butter and bathes in the milk.
5. Does the fly visit the patient sick with consumption, typhoid fever, and other diseases? He does—and may call on you next.
6. Is the fly dangerous? He is man's worst pest, and more dangerous than wild beasts or rattlesnakes.
7. What diseases does the fly carry? He carries typhoid fever, tuberculosis, and other diseases. How? On his wings and hairy feet. What is his correct name? Typhoid fly.
8. Did he ever kill anyone? He killed more American soldiers in the Spanish-American War than the bullets of Spaniards.
9. Where are the greatest number of cases of typhoid fever and consumption? Where there are the most flies.
10. Where are the most flies? Where there is the most filth.
11. Why should we kill the fly? Because he may kill us.
12. How shall we kill the fly? (a) Destroy all the filth about the house and yard; (b) pour lime wherever it is needed; (c) kill the fly with a wire-screen paddle, or sticky paper, or kerosene oil.
13. Kill the fly in any way, but kill him.
14. If there is filth anywhere that you cannot remove, call the office of the Board of Health, and ask for relief before you are stricken with disease and death.

Fight 'Em, Los Gatos

Los Gatos is still scrapping about temperance regulations. The liberals might as well make an end of scrapping, for nothing can prevent the final adoption of prohibition in Los Gatos and in the rest of this county. Palo Alto is dry, by good fortune and the forethought of its founders, but the county is going to be dry because the people at large have grown up to it. The saloons must go, not only in this supervisoral district, but in the city of San Jose itself. Did you know that the laymen of San Jose are negotiating with Billy Sunday right now and hope to land him in San Jose not later than 1912? Sunday converted 5,000 in an Ohio city of 24,000 this winter. He has stirred up a cyclone of religious fervor in Iowa and other middle west states and is engaged ahead until 1913. But Sunday doesn't preach the "simple gospel." He applies the gospel. When he comes to San Jose he will apply the gospel to the saloon business, the chief handicap of the county seat. Santa Clara county should become the most progressive bay county and, by outclassing San Francisco, Alameda and Marin counties in good government, gain the greater share of growth which this region is destined to enjoy. Los Gatos is on the right track, and while she may have seemed to waver at the last election it is not to be supposed that the gem of the foothills will ever permit the liquor business to get a foothold there again, having once been free from the traffic. Palo Alto, Mayfield, Los Altos—these are the outposts from which the map of a wet county must be rolled up toward San Jose, now the strong cithadel of booze hoisting and kindred vices, but sometime to become by the grace of God and the labors of its decent men the center of a county as clean as it is beautiful and as beautiful as purity and honor alone can make it.—The Palo Altan.

Poisoned from Eating Ice Cream

As the result of eating ice cream that contained some poisonous elements thirteen people in Campbell suffered from ptomaine poison last Sunday. The ice cream was purchased from Mrs. Brundage and was made by the Royal Ice Cream Parlor, San Jose. The poison seemed to be slow in its action as in most cases it was several hours after being eaten before the poison began to take effect. Those affected were mostly children. None of the cases proved serious.

Fire! Fire! And No Water!

What a predicament we would be in should a fire get started in the business part of town, just now while our water supply is short. Some of the business men who realize the danger of the situation had a chemical engine brought out here last Friday from San Jose for inspection and trial. The machine was one formerly owned by the defunct Woolen Mills and holds 100 gallons. A demonstration was arranged for in the evening and a large pile of boxes, etc., was stacked up on the lot east of E. C. Merrill's barns. After putting on oils and combustibles and giving the fire a good start the chemical engine was turned loose and as a result the fire was immediately extinguished.

Fire Chief Haley of San Jose accompanied the engine and proved to the satisfaction of the business men that it was all right in every particular. When new the engine cost about $900. It is offered to Campbell for $200. Chemical engines are used by all city fire departments and are the means of preventing many disastrous fires. They are intended for use when a fire is just gaining a start and can be gotten in action long before a stream of water can be started. The chemicals used kill the fire at once.

Over half of the $200 has been raised among the business men. Every one who owns a house in Campbell is requested to contribute something. No fire that has ever started in town has been stopped by water. The chemical engine will stop it. Your house may be next. Leave your money at the Farmers Union, with E. R. Kennedy or at this office.

The Demonstration Train

Stopped at Campbell this morning while hundreds of our people, including school children, witnessed the magnificent exhibit. There were ten cars in the train and seven were devoted to the show.

Annual Meeting of Congregational Church

Last Thursday afternoon was the Annual meeting of the Congregational Church. A large number of members gathered for the business session. The church was prettily decorated with syringas and roses. The following were elected as officers: Dr. A. B. Townsend, trustee; H. V. Archibald, deacon; each to serve three years; Clerk, Mrs. Marshman; Treasurer, F. H. Cutting; Superintendent of Sunday School, Easton Carter; W. W. Stewart, chief usher; Marshall Ross, Mrs. Shaw, and N. C. Hutton, music committee. These to serve for one year.

A Parsonage Committee consisting of Mrs. E. Carter, Mrs. Stewart and Dr. Townsend was appointed, two others to be added to the committee later. After the business session 125 sat down to a sumptious banquet served by the Guild. The Searchlight Class acting as waiters. Afterwards the time was spent in social intercourse, the young people joining in a musical till a late hour.

A Service of Unique Interest

The service at the Congregational Church last Sunday was one of unique and peculiar interest to the large audience which crowded the building to the doors. It was in commemoration of the Tercentenary of King James Bible. With the use of the lantern the Pastor took the people back 4000 years to the archeological discoveries of the scientists, then following the story of the Bible down through the centuries. The audience was greatly interested in the collection of Bibles on the side table. One of them printed in the reign of Charles I in 1626, just 15 years after the Authorized version. Another being an old MSS. copy written by one of the monks of Asia Minor, and antidating the days of printing. Various other Bibles in various languages were on the Bible-arium and the audience spent considerable time after the service looking at them. A large delegation came out from San Jose, and several drove out from Saratoga.

Political Equality Club

Echoes from the Convention

We suffragists have had a convention. Yes we have! And there was no police intervention either. Nearly all classes of society were present. Many of the local societies were represented by delegates. One of these was a colored woman. And a mighty fine-looking woman she was!

It was gratifying to see so many college girls present. And one of the best features of the occasion was the recitation of the popular poem, "Ma can't vote!" by a schoolboy, whose name your correspondent did not learn.

Our beloved President of the California Suffrage Association, Mrs. Elizabeth Lowe Watson, was there. And her presence was enough to inspire a far more phlegmatic assembly. Always radiating an atmosphere of peace, and harmony, her very presence is a benediction. And her spoken word is always something you can take home with you.

The President of the Convention, Mrs. Arnott of Palo Alto, presided with a serene dignity, despite the fact that her home was partially destroyed by fire the day before.

One of the principal features of the day was a speech by Mrs. Merrill of Stockton. She made a grand plea for the motherhood of the race, saying, in effect, that a mother must not only have love for her child, but that she must have wisdom to train it, and power to defend it.

Campbell was very well represented at the convention. Not only all the delegates were present, but many others came as guests. One of these was Mrs. Fablinger, daughter of that John Brown, whose soul goes marching on. Another of the guests was a real live woman who has voted for over twenty years. She is from Wyoming, and is the wife of one of the Supreme judges of the State. She said that it seemed very queer to hear the question of equal suffrage discussed.

Your correspondent remarked privately to Madam President that she was glad to know that the suffrage party could no longer be accused of being a lot of short-haired, strong-minded old maids, clamoring for the ballot that they might use it as a weapon with which to "swat" the enemy Man. And Madam President agreed that it was also a good sign that it was no longer fashionable to be weak-minded.

The session closed with a specially prepared song. But the last speech was by the Rev. Mr. Whittaker of Los Gatos. And since it was one of encouragement, bidding us look toward ultimate victory, rather than present triumph, we gladly allowed him to have the last word.

In the evening there was also an excellent program, the chief feature was a most laughable farce. And altogether the convention was a grand success.

SUMMARY OF PAST WEEK'S COAST NEWS

Interesting Events Among Our Neighbors in the Far West Reviewed.

What Has Transpired on the Border of the Broad Pacific From Alaska to Mexico.

Woodland.—Charged with the murder of Charles Dodge at Davis February 16th, Judge C. R. Carey, after two months' confinement in the county jail, was released on bonds of $105,000.

Redding.—Attempting suicide, Mrs. T. H. Hunsacker fired a bullet through her head. The ball entered the right temple and came out above the left ear. Physicians declare that she will probably recover.

Woodland.—Getting too near a small trash fire in the rear yard of her home in this city, Mrs. C. H. Odell's skirts caught fire and before the flames could be extinguished she had received burns about the limbs, body and head, from which she died in two hours.

Chico.—Wearing a pair of shoes too small for her may be the cause of Miss Bell Hayden losing one of her feet. The tight shoe squeezed her foot, stopped the circulation and injured it so that blood poisoning set in. It may be necessary to amputate the foot to save the girl's life.

Portland.—Owing to the prevalence of the plague in Asiatic ports, the State Board of Health has placarded the waterfront with notices of special health regulations. To prevent landing of rats, all hawsers from vessels to docks must be fitted with rat guards and portholes must be closed at night.

San Bernardino.—Holding that cement dust is doing permanent damage to surrounding orange groves, Judge B. F. Bledsoe of the Superior Court of this county, granted a permanent injunction against the operation of the California Portland Cement Company at Colton and awarded complaining growers damages for loss of crops.

Spokane, Wash.—J. O. Dalzell, genera agent of the Northern Pacific in Spokane, and his wife were accidentally asphyxiated by illuminating gas in their home here. Both were dead when found by neighbors. Investigation of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Dalzell indicated that they were asphyxiated in their bathroom from the fumes from a gas heater.

Berkeley.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt's gift to the University of California, the skin of a large South African bull elephant, which has been en route for several months, has reached here and been temporarily placed in the museum. The hide has not been mounted and may be placed in south hall, definite arrangements not having been concluded.

Pasadena. — William Thum, it appears. was elected Mayor of Pasadena at the recent municipal election without spending a cent. His election expenses statement, filed with the County Clerk, shows that he did not so much as pay car fare to the meetings at which he spoke. Thum says he made most of these trips in an automobile which belongs to his wife.

San Francisco.—The Collector of Customs has received orders from Benjamin S. Cable, Acting Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, to enforce the wireless ship act, which goes into effect on July 1st of this year. Under the act all passenger vessels which carry 50 or more people, crew included, for a distance of 200 miles, must be equipped with wireless apparatus.

Meridian.—Floyd Bickley, a rancher living near this place, was severely injured and his voice destroyed by a kick from a horse he was leading. The animal turned on him, and, striking out with its hind legs, caught him under the chin with one of the iron-shod hoofs. The vocal organs are so injured that physicians say he never again will regain his voice. A gash six inches long was cut in his neck.

San Francisco.—The announced candidates for Mayor of San Francisco are: James Rolph Jr., Mayor P. H. McCarthy, Charles F. Curry, William McDevitt, Socialist. If any one of these candidates receives a majority of all the votes cast at the primary on September 28, he will be elected. If no majority is declared, the two highest will run at the general election in November.

CANNOT EMBARK FOR ALASKA UNLESS YOU ARE VACCINATED

To Prevent Spread of Smallpox the Government Takes Measure.

Seattle, Wash.—Acting under orders from Washington, the local officers of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service announced that all persons taking passage on steamers bound for Alaska must submit to vaccination before they will be permitted to embark. Steamship men say that at least 15,000 travelers will be affected by the vaccination order.

Dr. Bolivar J. Lloyd of the Marine Hospital Service explained that the order was caused by the discovery of a few cases of smallpox among the crews and passengers on the steamships calling at Seattle. There are many places in Alaska where there are no health officers, and for this reason passengers must be vaccinated before sailing. The order applies to all vessels in the Alaska trade, and passengers sailing to Alaska on ships plying from foreign ports must show certificates of vaccination before they will be permitted to land in Alaska.

Professor Gets Prison Term.

Sacramento.—The sentence of F. C. Richardson, business college professor of Santa Rosa, Sonoma county, to three years in the penitentiary must now be served, the Third District Court of Appeal refusing to grant him a new trial on his appeal from the order of the Superior Court. The opinion was written by Associate Justice Hart, and it is concurred in by the other members of the court. Richardson wronged a girl student of the school which he conducted, then purchased drugs for her. It was on the charge of purchasing and giving her drugs against the law that he was convicted. He is a married man and the case was a sensational one in Sonoma county.

Demand for Fancy Grapes.

Stockton.—Though the grapevines are just beginning to bud, most of the coming crop of the world-famous Flaming Tokay grapes in the Lodi section have been sold. The large shipping companies have had agents in that section purchasing every ton of the best quality of shipping grapes to be grown. From $18 to $25 a ton has been paid for the grapes. The shippers have agreed to take all the risk outside of the 10 per cent off for culls, which the growers will assume.

Arbor Day in Chicago.

Chicago.—"Half a million Russian mulberry trees were planted by Chicago school children in celebration of Arbor Day. The trees were set out in front and back yards and on school premises and in small parks. The Russian mulberry is peculiarly adapted to Chicago climate, according to City Forester Prost.

Day Set to Locate Fair.

San Francisco.—The site of the Panama-Pacific Exposition will be selected by the Exposition directors on May 8th, according to the latest information at corporation headquarters. The directors will not make any move in the matter until President Moore shall have returned from the East.

Prohibition Enters Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz.—An official count of the election returns shows that all of Maricopa county, with the exception of Phoenix, is "dry." Of the total vote the prohibitionists polled 750 majority. In Phoenix the "wets" outnumbered the "drys" by 313.

State Milk Commissioners.

Santa Barbara.—The State Association of Medical Milk Commissioners was organized here by the County Milk Commissioners for the purpose of furthering the enforcement of recent legislation governing the purity and cleanliness of milk and butter.

Opium Destroyed.

San Francisco.—About $70,000 worth of smoking opium, according to the Chinatown market rate, was destroyed at the custom house, the largest quantity ever confiscated here. Most of the drug was taken from the liner Korea.

Tons of Copper Money.

New York.—Fifteen hundred tons of Chinese money is aboard the schooner Katuna which reached here from the Far East. The money was worn and mutilated and was sold as old copper by the Chinese Government.

Mine Inspector for Alaska.

Washington.—President Taft has appointed Sumner S. Smith of Alameda, Cal., mine inspector for Alaska. Governor Clark and Secretary of the Interior Fisher recommended Mr. Smith.

Mexican Hostilities Cease, to Consider Peace Plans

Washington.—An armistice to be followed by plans for permanent peace has been agreed on by the Mexican Government and the Revolutionists. While not officially announced, it is understood General Francisco L. Madero, leader of the Revolutionists, withdrew his demand for the immediate resignation of President Diaz as a necessary condition precedent to the cessation of hostilities.

In return, Diaz, it is sad, will grant a new and fair election for all officer of the Mexican Government from President down.

Vice President Corrall, now on the way to Europe, and Minister of Finance Limantour, both detested by the Insurrectos, are to resign.

Dr. Vasquez Gomez, diplomatic representative of the Madero provisional Government, gave out the peace news in the following announcement:

"I am in receipt of a telegram from General Madero telling me that an armistice has been agreed upon between himself as head of the Revolutionary party, and Senor de la Barra as representative of the Federal Government. A commission will be appointed by both sides to discuss permanent peace plans.

"Pending the appointment of the peace commission and the discussion of peace, all hostilities will cease on both sides. This means that the Federals will continue to occupy Juarez and that the Revolutionishts and will not abandon their position about the city. I am not at liberty to state in detail what the terms of peace will be. All that will depend upon possible agreements or mutual concessions honorable to both parties."

Madero's telegram to Dr. Gomez follows:

"Taking into consideration the actual situation, General Madero accepts the armistice proposed covering the zone between Juarez and the city of Chihuahua in order to negotiate peace in conferences that are to follow."

The news was immediately telegraphed by Dr. Gomez to Senor de la Barra, Minister of Foreign Affairs, at Mexico City.

Dr. Gomez said:

"I confidently expect that peace will be established within a week and that the war is over. The terms of the armistice are the terms of peace."

Alien Immigration Cut Short by Rigidly Enforced Laws

San Franicsco.—For the first time in 20 years an Asiatic liner has docked in San Francisco without a solitary undesirable alien seeking admission to these shores.

The Pacific Mail steamship Nippon Maru, which for years has brought hordes of Hindus and Chinese to Angel Island, has arrived from the Orient with the unique distinction of not having among her passengers a single Asiatic who might be classed as undesirable alien.

This striking fact is considered in Federal circles as a convincing testimonial to the work of the acting Commissioner of Immigration since the deposal of his predecessor. Before the new regime assumed control of local immigration affairs in this city, every trans-Pacific steamer brought hundreds of applicants considered by Uncle Sam as undesirable, many of whom succeeded in effecting a landing here despite the protests of civic bodies and labor unions. It was the charges filed in Washington concerning this condition of laxity at Angel Island that resulted in the the present change of administration at the island.

It is understood in immigration circles that the word has gone broadcast over the Orient that the immigration laws are being rigidly enforced here. This has resulted, it is said, in almost entirely eliminating the flow of undesirabes to this port.

Maintain Honor and Dignity But Fight if Necessary

New York.—Secretary of War Dickinson is well satisfied with the way in which the Mexican situation is being handled. Speaking before the Seventh Regiment of the New York National Guard, he said:

"We have heard all kinds of rumors recently. We have heard it suggested that the United States will intervene in Mexico. But, fortunately, we have a man as President who refuses to be carried away by popular hysteria. He will maintain the honor and dignity of the country and at the same time the American people can count upon his good sense and sound judgment.

As to our military arm, the citizen soldier is and must be our chief reliance in any great crisis. Our people will never reconcile themselves to a large standing army like the great countries of Europe have.

"If a crisis should ever arise between this country and any first-class power, they would not fight us with untrained troops. Our nation has taken on the duties and obligations of a first-class world power, and it must be prepared to discharge them. This can best be done with a small, well-trained army, as we have recently demonstrated in Texas."

Saw the Back of Her Own Head But Something Snapped

Eli, Neb.—Miss Elsie Stuart succeeded in seeing the back of her head, but in so doing she dislocated her neck, tearing some of the ligaments from their fastenings and necessitating her being sent to a hospital at Omaha, there to have her injuries righted.

Miss Stuart was arrayed in her best, and upon her head was perched a new and stylish Easter hat. Standing in front of a long mirror in her home, she desired to get a back view of herself. Backing up to the mirror she twisted her head until she was almost looking backward. Then there was a snapping of muscles, sounding much like the report of a small pistol, and Miss Stuart found herself unable to turn her head to the right, the left or forward. She was continually looking backward.

The pain was intense, but the young woman was placed on a speicial train and hurried away to Omaha, where a surgeon pulled the neck back into place, set the face so that it looks to the front and caught up the dislocated ligaments.

Largest Gold Dredger in the World in Yuba River

Marysville.—The largest gold dredger in the world, costing a quarter of a million dollars, has been launched at Hammonton, 12 miles east of Marysville, on the Yuba river. As soon as its machinery, which has been built in the local dredger shops, is installed, it will begin rooting 100 feet below the surface of the ground to bring up gold-bearing gravel that is known by tests to be there.

All other dredgers in use in California cost less than half what this one cost and they cannot delve so deep into the earth. It can handle 300,000 cubic yards of earth monthly with its chain of buckets. Its hull is 240 feet long, its stacker 138 feet, and its total weight will be 1600 tons, against an average eight of 750 tons for the other gold dredgers. Its spuds alone weigh 28,000 pounds, but are shifted with the utmost ease.

STARVATION IN CHINA IS AN ORDINARY CONDITION

Proposal of S. F. Chamber of Commerce Does Not Enthuse Congress.

Washington.—At this time the State Department has no suggestion to make with regard to the proposal of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce that Congress appropriate money for the starving Chinese.

Flatly put, the Department does not approve, nor yet does it disapprove. The fact is, starvation in China is so nearly an ordinary condition that Secretary Knox cannot assent to a proposal that Congress shall be asked to deal with it as an extraordinary condition approximating that produced by a great fire.

The matter was laid before the department by Representative Kahn, whom the Chamber had asked to introduce a bill if the officials of this Government deemed it expedient that anything of the kind should be done because of the attitude of the State Department.

Kann will not do anything—at least not until there is reason for him to change its present attitude.

Socialists Want Troops Removed.

Washington.—Ninety thousand citizens of the United States petitioned Congress to withdraw the troops from the Mexican border. It required three men to carry to the Speaker's platform, when the House convened, huge bundles of petitions submitted by Victor Berger, the Socialist member from Wisconsin. "What is all this?" asked Speaker Clark in surprise. Mr. Berger explained that the petitions had been received from residents of every State except Delaware, and from every territory except Alaska. They declare that the presence of the troops is aiding in the suppression of what the petitioners believe to be a just struggle for liberty.

Club After Caterpillar.

Mill Valley.—The forestry committee of the local Outdoor Art Club has begun a crusade against caterpillars, which are in evidence in great numbers on the foliage surrounding the valley homes. Unless they are exterminated at once, say the clubwomen, they will quickly spread throughout all gardens and trees. The clubwomen advise that the best method of exterminating the pests is to take a long pole with a rag soaked in kerosene on the end and hold it under the nest.

Royal Flush Caused Heart Failure.

Chicago.—Laura Cotton, stenographer, is dead because she drew a royal flush in a poker game. Miss Cotton held the hand in an unusually large jackpot during a family game at her home. She became greatly excited during the preliminary betting and her efforts to conceal it is believed to have caused heart failure.

Babies Chew Tobacco.

Eskimo babies, it is alleged, are seldom weaned before the fourth or fifth year, but are taught to chew tobacco and to swallow the juice even as early as the ninth month. The customs—general with both sexes—of inhaling tobacco smoke and swallowing tobacco juice seem to be of no recent growth. No evil results of either practice seem to be apparent.—Medical Times.

All Snakes Are Killers.

But all snakes, great and small, are killers. All of them eat creatures which they slay. None eat vegetable food of any kind. Nor will they eat animals which they find dead. That is one reason, no doubt, why they have always been shunned and dreaded by human beings.

MY DAUGHTER WAS CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"I send you herewith the picture of my fifteen year old daughter Alice, who was restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was pale, with dark circles under her eyes, weak and irritable. Two different doctors treated her and called it Green Sickness, but she grew worse all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking three bottles she has regained her health, thanks to your medicine. I can recommend it for all female troubles."—Mrs. L. A. What Fertilizers to Use.

The kind and amount of fertilizers which can be most economically used on a certain crop or on a certain soil, can be determined only by an actual test. No chemical analysis of either the soil or the plant wil show this accurately. The kind of fertilizing needed will depend more upon the natural character of the soil, its previous treatment and its present mechanical condition, than upon the actual plant food taken up by the growing crop. The following suggestions as to the amount and composition of the fertilizers needed for different crops are based on the experience of experiment stations, and of successful farmers in different parts of the country. The figures here biven represent the averages which have been found most profitable on ordinary soils in fair condition.

BEANS.

The varieties of beans are very numerous, and include several distinct species. The Horse Bean (Vicia faba) an erect plant, two feet or more in height, with very large seeds, is often grown as a forage crop in Europe and to some extent n Canada and the northern states. In this country, on account of blighting when the weather becomes very warm, it is not extensively cultivated.

The Lima Bean (Phaseolus lunatus) is a popular pole and bush variety. It is tender, and should not be planted until there is no danger of late frosts. Plant in rows 4 feet apart, using 3 to 4 seeds every 3 feet. It is well to start the plants in inverted sods in the hot bed.

The Bush Bean (Phaseolus manus) which furnishes the "White Navy" and many other similar sorts, is a very popular variety, as its grows fairly well on very poor soil, makes a quick crop, and leaves the soil in an improved condition. For snap beans, the "Wax" varieties are the most popular, as the pods are so thick, fleshy and transparent as to give them an attractive appearance.

The Pole Beans (phaseolus vulgaris) including such varieties as the "Red Speckled," "Horticultural," and "Southern Prolific" yield more freely than do the bush varieties, and many think them of better quality. Where there is an abundance of room, the bush varieties are more profitable, but where the ground is limited more can be secured from an equal area by planting the pole varieties.

Soil. Beans will grow and make a fair yield on a poorer soil than almost any other crop. They may be grown on any soil which is not too wet, but succeed best on a light, sandy loam.

Cultivation. Beans are planted both in hills and drills and given clean cultivation. The seed should not be planted until the soil is well warmed in the spring, because they are liable to rot in a cold, moist soil.

Fertilizer. If the beans are grown for ripe seed, the fertilizer need contain but little nitrogen, but must be rich in phosphoric acid and potash; that is, per acre, applied in the drill from 500 to 1,000 pounds of a fertilizer containing:

Nitrogen, ...1%
Actual potash, ...9%
Available phosphoric acid, 6%

If the crop be grown for snap beans, the percentage of nitrogen should be as high as 3 per cent, the other ingredients remaining as above.

Suggestions. The profitable culture of beans, either for seed or snap beans, is largely a matter of nearness to market. For growing seed beans on a large scale special machinery is required for harvesting, etc. In small quantities, seed beans are sometimes grown for home use by late planting in corn rows, this late planting being to escape the weevil. If beans must be stored, they should be treated with carbon disulphide as a protection against the weevil. The chemical can be purchased of any druggist, full directions for using accompany it.

One View of Patriotism.

HAVE CLUB FOR EACH WIFE

No Papuan Gentleman Would Think of Beating Two Wives With the Same Weapon.

The marriage customs of the Papuans are somewhat similar to those of many other savage races. The ceremony is largely a matter of purchase. The men marry when they are about 18 years of age and the girls at 11 or even earlier.

When a young lake man desires to get married he visits the father of his prospective bride and puts forward his personal belongings as an inducement to the father to consent to the union.

If a man has a gun he is a great personage and can demand anything, but besides their bows and arrows and spears most of the Papuans have very little. Even agricultural produce is scarce, the only cultivation undertaken being on a very primitive scale.

A little clearing is made by both men and women, and the women then grow bananas and sweet potatoes. The men are always armed, and when the women go to the patch to attend to their crops or gather the produce the men go with them as a protection. The women, however, do the work.

Many families have a bundle of ancient Portuguese cloth centuries old and when a young man is seeking a bride one of these heirlooms is generally part of the deal. The youth and the girl's father haggle over the marriage until eventually they agree to terms and then the thing is done. The men are not limited to one wife and once a girl is married she is subject to her husband in everything and is practically his slave.

"In another part of New Guinea," says a writer in the Wide World, "I remember a distinctly strong confirmation of the custom which places a woman at the entire mercy of her husband. At one house I visited I saw standing outside the doorway three huge stone clubs, each large enough to fell a bullock.

"On making inquiries I found that they tallied with the number of wives owning allegiance to the householder; the clubs were used by the man to beat his wives with it they annoyed him. The quaint part of it was that while the women seemed to raise no objection to being flogged unmercifully by their lord and master, they would not be beaten with the same weapon as that used on another woman, so the natives kept a separate club for each wife."

Poetic Apprentice.

A grocer's apprentice addicted to poetry has summoned his employer, a rich merchant of Ougitsa, Servia, for unlawful dismissal. The merchant explained that his customers left because the boy answered all questions in rhyme and detained people while he fixed meter and verse. Moreover, he greeted his employer with a new couplet every day. The court found the merchant justified and advised the apprentice to mend his ways.—Belgrade Cor. Pall Mall Gazette.

Movement of the Air.

The movement of air is variously designated, according to its velocity, as a zephyr, breeze, wind, gale or hurricane. With fogs the designations are mists, slight, moderate or thick. A dense or thick fog, according to the weather bureau, obscures objects at a distance of 1,000 feet.

Forests and Earthquakes.

In the Rassegna Contemporanea for October (a journal which, by the way, has during the past few months contained a number of well-written articles dealing with English national movements), Signor Gino Cucchetti publishes an article dealing, as the author claims, with a suggestion by the geologist, Venturino Sabatini, according to which a remedy for the disastrous effects of earthquakes in Messina and southern Italy should be sought in an effieciant scheme of afforestation. It is pointed out that the cutting down of trees in such districts may frequently result in a loosening of the subsoil, which is largely argillaceous or sandy in character, thus giving rise to faults and lessening the resistance to the effects of seismic disturbances. The cutting down of woods receives further mention in an article by the Deputy Giovanni Posadi dealing with the preservation of natural beauties, while an article by Signor Arnoldo Faustini dealing with changes that have occurred on the earth's surface in recent times, with special reference to the subsidence of the island of Bogoslaw, in Alaska, possesses collateral interest in the same connection.—Nature.

Bronze Followed Iron.

Pliny records that the best steel used at Rome in his day came from China, a country whose historians claim that bronze or copper swords were used "in the days of Ki, the son of Yu," B. C. 2197-48, and those of iron under Kung-Kia, B. C. 1897-48. According to the Arundelian marbles, iron was first known to the Greeks, B. C. 1432, nearly two centuries and a half before the Trojan war, which is supposed to have begun B. C. 1184 but the bible declares that nearly 36 centuries before Christ, Tubal Cain—seventh in descent from Adam through Cain, his first-born son—was "an instructor of every artificer in brass and iron." Josephus declares of him that he was "the inventor of brass" (or bronze), which would indicate that bronze, instead of being made before iron was forged, was the later invention.—From an article in the National Magazine.

New to Him.

The hobble skirt was being discussed at the Colony club in New York, and Miss Elizabeth Marbury, the dramatic agent, said with a smile:

"You'd think the hobble skirt had penetrated everywhere, but listen.

"In Camden the other afternoon a young girl in a brown hobble skirt hurried, with short quick steps, to a football game. Her skirt was tight enough, in all conscience, but a narrow black band encircling it just below the knees drew it still tighter.

"As the young girl tripped out Mickle street a coal heaver, laying down his shovel, ran after her.

"'Say, miss,' he said, in a low, confidential tone, 'your belt's slipped down.'"

Where Did He Learn It?

A teacher of English, in order to disprove the charge that high school pupils know little about the vital things that are going on around them, gave a test in which she asked for definitions of such terms as tariff, reciprocity, the labor problem. In the paper of a 15-year-old she found this: "The labor problem is how to keep the working people happy without paying them enough to live on."—La Follett's Weekly.

Too Much For Her.

"Don't you want me to give you a ride on your sled?" asked a lady of a small boy whom she met trudging along, dragging his sled behind him. The boy looked up at the lady solemnly, then spread his arms and said: "I am an airship!" And the lady hurried on, recognizing her total inability to cope with such a wonderful machine.

Quite So.

"Why is the public always bullish in the market?"

"That's natural enough. It is hard for the public to grasp the idea that anything is ever going down in price."

Harp or Tom-Tom.

"Won't you try a piece of my wife's angel cake?" "Will it make an angel of me?" "That will depend on the kind of a life you have led."

Spider Builds Strong Web.

Spiders are met with in the forest of Java whose webs are so strong that it requires a knife to cut through them.

Kidney Trouble Overcome by the Great Treatment

I have been a sufferer for years with kidney and bladder trouble and took almost everything a drug store contained, without obtaining any benefit.

I suffered so that I became utterly discouraged, as I could not sleep, was always dizzy and had a headache all the time. I saw one of your advertisements and as a last resort, decided to try your Swamp-Root. I am now taking the third bottle and feel like a new woman, sleep well and have no pains whatever.

I strongly advise all sufferers to take the only real cure for kidney and bladder trouble. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Rood was a God-send to me.

The Moral Grafter

Not Blind, But Near-Sighted

Dear Mr. Editor:

In the editorial of last week it was said: "We hope to hear from the Boys' Club as to their ideals." May I give the following as a part of that which we hope to accomplish?

There are little men in America, and lots of them. I am not at all excited, I speak the words of truth and soberness. These men live on the moral life of the community where they are, and contribute nothing to it. The institutions that make for peace, the progress and moral power of their neighborhood exist and prosper in spite of them. Some of them despise the church, a host of them ignore it. That man who lives and does business on American soil, without taking share in the maintenance of the moral forces which have built up our civilization and which now maintain it, is not ordinarily mean. He is, to use the language of Frank Dyer Secretary of our National Brotherhood, "DESPERATELY MEAN." I am talking about the man who thinks he is decent; who has a decent business; whose profit and pleasure is the product of the moral progress of mankind; but who is, nevertheless, a moral-grafter. He prospers on the past and on the present which others have created, and declines to make his contribution. He gathers where he has not scattered, he reaps where he has not sown. It is to help our boys to avoid such a pitiful manhood as that, that is one of the aims of our Boys' Club. To show them the dignity of labor, the intrinsic value of manhood, their magnificent opportunities and their responsibility as citizens, and to help fit them for a career of useful service for society as well as for themselves. Let them see the best, that they may attain the best. Many other things come in also, but I must not take more of your space.

Cordially yours,
GEO. E. ATKINSON.

TOMORROW, Saturday, is Raisin Day. Eat 'em.

WE predict a clean county before 1915. And then, watch the development.

THE Political Equality Club of Campbell has been given space in this paper and each week live articles will appear, edited by Miss Ida M. Coates.

ARE the people of San Jose being fed on sick chickens? Report came to this office that a San Jose poultry dealer had been trying to buy up sick chickens from the raisers between here and San Jose. He was willing to buy any thing that had any life at all in it. It looks to us like a job for the pure food inspector.

THE first issue of the Pacific Grove Argus came out last Friday. It is a splendid little five column folio, well edited, and has a good showing of advertising. Mr. E. C. Hurlbert, the editor, has had twenty-seven years' experience in the printing business, and is a hard worker. After having had several years' experience with Mr. Hurlbert we can say that he is a capable and conscientious man. We believe there is a field for a weekly paper in Pacific Grove and we further speak success for the Argus.

Bond Election Carried

The school bond election last Saturday carried, 53 to 9 votes. Ten ballots were rejected. The Grammar school trustees will now issue bonds to the extent of $1500 and purchase the six lots on the east, and will also make other improvements.

Post Office Will Close on Sundays

THE employees of the local post office have been granted a Sunday rest day as the result of the petition sent to Washington by the many patrons in this community. This is in line with what has been done in a great many places throughout the country.

As many people have gone to the post office on Sunday morning and stood in line to receive a possible letter, how little they have thought of what work it imposed upon a few people who had already put in their six days' labor. The Campbell office required on the average a total of about eight and one half hours Sunday labor, divided up among three people. A rural carrier spent two hours in the morning sorting the rural mail and getting it in shape so that when a man called for his it could be quickly gotten. Then Mrs. Waite and Mrs. Forbes both were obliged to work from ten o'clock until one or later, with no opportunity to go to church or to spend the Sunday away from town. Under the new arrangement, none of the rural carriers will need to go to the office on Sunday and only one of the two women will be there but a short time, probably one and a half hours. Lock box letters and special delivery letters will be attended to as usual, and that is all. All the business men have lock boxes and if they wish their mail can get it. The price of a call box is 20 cents per quarter and a lock box is but 15 cents more. A large wooden box such as the Press office use costs 60 cents per quarter. At first some people may not like the idea of being unable to call for their mail on Sunday, but surely, to save 15 cents a month, they will not ask the postoffice employees to spend seven hours in that office and be deprived of their Sunday rest and enjoyment. Remember the golden rule. Engage a lock box. Were it not possible to get any mail at all on Sunday few people would be inconvienced. Not many get more mail than the Press office, and we never get anything but that can wait over till Monday morning.

The employees of the Campbell postoffice wish to express to the patrons who signed the petition their thanks and appreciation for this act of kindness in their behalf.

Lawson of the Northwestern District, and D. M. Gandier, Legislative Superintendent, who now has charge of the work in this district.

Arrested for Disturbing the Peace

Last Monday Mrs. Mary Lock prefered charges against W. J. Feebeck for disturbing the peace. The case will come up in Judge Brown's court, San Jose, on Tuesday, May 9th. The abuse which has been heaped upon that poor helpless widow woman has aroused the indignation of the entire community, and it is probable that other charges will follow.

Mrs. Lock is a woman of quiet and peaceful disposition and was never know to harm or abuse anybody. She enjoys the respect and confidence of the entire neighborhood.

Some months ago Mrs. Lock instituted proceedings to get the Feebecks out of her property on Harrison avenue and in Justice Farley's court she was given judgment and Feebeck was ordered to vacate the premises. Feebeck, however, refused to move and appealed the case to a higher court. The case was not heard simply because the papers were not forwarded from the local court. Justice Farley says the law does not require him to forward the papers until the fees are paid here, and Feebeck refuses to pay; at the same time he continues to hold possession of the helpless woman's house, deprives her of her money and constantly worries, abuses, blackguards and threatens her until the poor old woman cannot eat or sleep, her health is being broken down and she lives in constant fear of her life.

The Feebecks claim possession of the property on the grounds that they have a verbal lease, but they have no witnesses that Mrs. Lock made any arrangements for their holding the place any definite length of time. On the contrary there is evidence that the claim was hatched up after they had been unable to rent other places in town. When first ordered out the Feebecks informed Mrs. Lock that there were other houses in town and that they would move. Mrs. Feebeck next told a near neighbor that they would remain in the house for a couple of weeks after their rent was up and beat the old lady out of that much money. It then developed that a house which they said they had engaged was refused them and likewise another. Then came up the plea of a verbal lease, etc. There is much more that might be said in regard to this case, but our space will not permit it this week.

Model Graduation Gown

Printed leaflets giving complete instructions as to the pattern and materials to be used in the $2.30 graduating gowns of the local high school girls are being prepared and will be issued before the spring vacation. The leaflet will be illustrated with diagrams showing how the cloth should be cut. Many of the girls will make their own dresses. The decision of the girls to wear the simple but dainty dresses costing this small sum has attracted widespread notice. The Board of Education recently adopted a resolution of appreciation and commendation as a result of their action. Five yards of luna lawn will be used in each dress. This costs 35 cents a yard. Twelve yards of lace insertion, costing 5 cents a yard, one spool of thread and cord for the belt, and a 15 cent pattern complete the list of essentials. Some of the girls will draft their own patterns.—Long Beach Journal.
